Description

A Victorian silver snuff or tobacco box with clear hallmarks for London 1843 and makers mark for Benjamin Barling. This highly elegant oval silver box has an engraved geometric finish (sometimes known as engine turning or guilloché work) all over, apart from a central vacant shield on the lid. It is gilt lined. Hallmarks are present under the lid and in the base. The hinged lid and snap closure work perfectly. The item is stamped below the lid with the retailer's name - W Allbon, Regent Street, London. An item of superb quality in excellent condition, with an early date.
