Description

A very useful set of metamorphic steps dating from the early 20th Century. They are made from pine and transform easily in one movement from a chair to steps. They are a small size and certainly very rustic in form but they are in good original condition with a lovely patina. There are some small knocks and minor marks and splits here and there and signs of age and use but no major damages and the whole piece is generally strong and sturdy. Approximate Measurements: Height as steps : 23" / 58.5cm Width : 15" / 38cm Depth : 20" / 51cm Height as chair : 31" / 79cm The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
