Description

This pair of Art Deco bedside drawers, dating back to the 1920s-1930s, exemplifies impeccable craftsmanship and attention to detail. Made from figured walnut, the drawers are in excellent condition, showcasing their original solid brass handles that add a touch of elegance to the design. Each of the six dovetailed drawers operates smoothly and is lined with fine walnut, reflecting the quality of the era. The professional French polish not only enhances the rich color but also highlights the stunning wood grain, making these pieces truly eye-catching. Structurally sound with no loose joints, splits, or warps, they promise both functionality and beauty. The interiors are clean and tidy, ready to complement any decor while providing ample storage for the new homeowner. Additionally, a matching double wardrobe and tallboy is available in a separate listing, perfect for those looking to complete their bedroom ensemble.
