Description

Edwardian Antique Copper Jardinière or Ice Bucket, C1900, 25cm diameter . A superbly stylish antique copper jardiniere pot or table wine cooler ice bucket, Edwardian circa 1900. The elegant table piece of ornate form reveals a timeworn patination, polished body with a scalloped top with a twisted rope edge and surmounted by repeated lions masks. Drainage hole inside base of bowl. Presented in mostly excellent condition, structurally very good with no cracks or significant dents, the body does show some minor dents from regular use but these are minor and of course authenticate its age. The pot sits well with a handsome table presence.
