Description

An exceptional early 19th-century mahogany music table featuring a highly refined silhouette. Its versatile proportions make it a beautiful statement piece for use as a reading stand in a library, an occasional table in a study, or a unique accent beside an armchair. The table is defined by its adjustable tilting top, a sophisticated period design mechanism that allows the surface to lift and angle seamlessly. The mahogany frame is beautifully accented by fine brass inlay and classic border details, highlighting the premium quality and detailed craftsmanship of the early 19th century. The piece is in showroom condition. It is ready for immediate use in the home. Dimensions: * Width: 95 cm * Depth: 68 cm * Height: 73.5 cm
