Description

A rare spoon from the early 17thc is this Charles 1 period "strawberry knob" latten spoon...it has the stamp and initials of the maker in the top of the "fig" shaped bowl, the makers mark is of a single spoon and initials RS...it shows signs of pitting as it was probably a metal detecting find and modern fertilizers do have an adverse effect on metalware over time, but it still is in very nice condition, for its great age and strawberry knob spoons in good condition are getting very hard to find. English. C1630-40.
