Description

A good example of a Georgian tea caddy spoon with a sterling silver bowl and beautiful mother of pearl handle. Its distinctive shovel shaped bowl has its original gilt interior and it is clearly hallmarked for Birmingham 1812 and the maker Joseph Willmore. It is in good condition for its age. There are no major damages and it displays well. There are some faint surface marks and a few light knocks here and there but nothing detrimental. It has been gently cleaned and polished and is ready for use. Approximate Measurements : Length : 3 1/2" / 9cm Width : 1 1/4" / 3cm The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
