Description

A dark red japanned long case clock with very well painted chinoiserie designs, having a caddy top to the hood. The case is finely decorated with an unusual amount of detail. The 12" break arch dial is signed by John Harrison of Norwich, and as well as a calendar aperture and subsidiary seconds dial, a strike/silent lever in the arch. This to turn off the chimes of the hours, for night time comfort. The clock has an eight day movement. Height 93" c. 1780

Internal Ref: red lacquered long case clock
