Description

This beautifully restored 1910s mahogany countertop shop display cabinet features a rare original reverse-painted glass sign advertising "Homeopathic Medicines and Preparations Patent Medicines." The curved glass top showcases contents elegantly, while the reverse glass panel across the front is a standout detail, finely hand-gilded and painted using the traditional verre églomisé technique. Constructed with a rich mahogany frame and finished with brass campaign-style drawer pulls, the unit includes four drawers at the back for additional storage. The interior is lined with oak-veneered boards, which highlight its clean and professional appearance.
