Description

A lovely antique ice cream mould dating from the early 20th Century. It has a circular form in the shape of a melon and is made in two parts and still has its original base. It is made from fairly light gauge copper and the interior is tinned. The base is stamped '6' above 'U-C.M.S.C'. There is a small hole in the back where it would have once had a hanging hook. It has been well used and has developed a lovely patina. We have only gently cleaned the copper to retain the patina but it could be polished further if desired. There are no major damages but there are some signs of age and use and some dents and dings here and there. The interior tinned lining has worn in places and would probably be best for display now rather than use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Tracked UK Delivery £8
