

SA1141340

antique refectory table oak 17th century dining table
c1660

Price

GBP 2,950

| USD $3,984 | EUR 3,450

Item Reference: SA1141340

Date of manufacture: 17th Century

Description

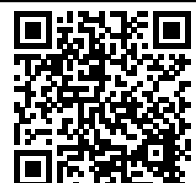

Antique refectory table 17th century c1650. This fine example of a fairly large antique oak 17th refectory dining table with a wonderful honest patination is dated circa 1650. This oak antique 17th century dining refectory table would look wonderful with some ladder back country chairs or Windsor chairs. Measurements: Length: 233cm (7 feet and 7 inches) Width: 80cm Height : 72cm Marvellous proportions to possibly seat 8 people quite easily. Also, sometimes referred to as a trestle table or tavern dining table this fine 17th century antique dining table is extremely rare. This antique oak refectory table is part of a large house clearance that we purchased from an old Scottish castle / mansion, which is currently being sorted within our warehouse facility and more photos will be available soon. Dining table Refectory table Table We are experts in antiques from the 1600 to 1900 with 40 years of knowledge In addition to previous generations being involved in the antiques business. We only list a small fraction of our stock, so if you are looking for anything particular, please ask. We ship worldwide, so please ask for a quote for delivery.

Internal Ref: 17refecttable

Seller Details

Gerald Neville Antiques

East Sussex United Kingdom

Tel: 07597 391543

International Tel: +44 7597 391543