Date of manufacture: Victorian

Description

A fabulous Victorian cluster ring featuring a round opal cabochon surrounded by a halo of ten rose cut diamonds set in an open back gallery to a slightly tapering band, all crafted in 9ct gold. The opal in this ring is beautiful, displaying rainbow-like hues with flashes of electric greens, blues and yellows. Delicate twinkle of the rose cut diamonds adds to it's magic and makes this ring one of a kind special antique piece. The ring is unmarked (possibly have been resized and the marks were lost in the process) but tested and confirmed to be 9ct gold. Dimensions: ring size – UK – R, US – 8 $\frac{3}{4}$, the ring face – 10 mm diameter, opal cabochon (approximate calculated weight) – 0.6ct, diamonds calculated total weight – 0.36ct, total ring weight -2.97 gram. Condition: excellent condition, all stones are natural and original, slight thinning to the lower part of the shank, a fine genuine antique piece.
