Description

Charles Jones British, (1836-1892) Highland Cattle & Sheep in Winter Oil on canvas, signed with monogram & dated (18)65, further inscribed verso Image size: 23.5 inches x 35.5 inches Size including frame: 30.5 inches x 42.5 inches A wonderful winter landscape animal painting of Highland Cattle and sheep in the snow by Charles 'Sheep' Jones. A small herd of Highland cattle can be seen standing on a snow covered hill next to a rocky outcrop. Nearby, two sheep can be seen resting as another looks out across the Highlands. As the animals take their ease, some of them appear to have stopped to look out at the viewer, their breath visible in the wintry air. Charles Jones was an animal painter who was born in Stepney, London in 1836. He was the son of the artist Samuel John Egbert Jones (1797-1861) and Dinah Jones. He lived with his parents and 9 siblings in Mile End and was a pupil of his father. In September 1859, he married Frances Rosalinda Downe, who was born in America. His son Arthur Bertram Loud (1863-1930) also became an artist. They lived at 12 Hayes Place, Lisson Grove from where he made his debut in London at the Royal Academy in 1861. He also exhibited at the Bri...
