Description

A very fine pair of Edwardian country house mahogany stick stands each having a latticed sectional top of 12 compartments. The stands are raised on turned supports headed with attractive turned finials. These early 20th century stick stands have a rich colour and good patination. They have the original drip trays, one of these shows a little wear compatible with age but this is not detrimental. A most attractive pair of country house stick stands that would enhance any entrance hall. c. 1905 Code: D1076 Width: 24" 61 cm Depth: 9" 23 cm Height: 28" 71 cm
