Description

An unusual Irish mahogany chest of ten drawers. The top, with reeded edge, crossbanded in satinwood with inlaid centre oval panel, above five drawers either side of a central division each crossbanded in satinwood with dovetailed pine linings and brass swan neck handles, above a reeded bottom mould with shaped bracket feet. An interesting piece with country house construction, good colour and patina, a few historical old repairs to the crossbanding round the drawers otherwise a useful piece with good storage and smart enough to go into a reception room if needed and only shallow in depth. Northern Ireland Circa 1830. Provenance - the late Miss Johanna Vardon, The National Foaling Bank, Meretown House, Newport, Shropshire.
