Description

Edwardian Inlaid Bureau Bookcase A timeless Edwardian inlaid mahogany bookcase, elegantly designed with an astral-glazed upper section housing three fully adjustable shelves, ideal for displaying books or treasured items. Below, a drop-down writing leaf reveals a beautifully fitted interior complete with a tooled green leather insert, perfect for writing or correspondence. The central section features a long drawer with decorative metal handles, while the lower cabinet opens to reveal a spacious interior behind two panelled doors. The entire piece stands on traditional bracket feet and separates into two sections for ease of transport and installation. This solid and sturdy piece boasts a rich patina that speaks to its age and character. While there are some minor cosmetic marks, bumps, and small areas of missing trim - particularly on the lower right-hand door and back right leg veneer - these do not detract from its overall beauty or functionality. A practical and elegant storage solution, this bookcase is as useful as it is visually impressive, making it a perfect addition to both period and modern interiors.
