Description

A really fabulous Bordjalou Kazak, from the Caucasus mountains with great colour and fantastic condition. The fleecy pile glows with natural dyestuffs and the 'eye-dazzler' border grabs the vision and swings it up and down with irrepressible energy. A real showstopper of a rug and one which I have not found for a long time. Full of whimsical, tribal details including dogs, goats and birds. A small date panel with 1270. The green is ideal, mottled with a dozen different shades. A corroded light purple. A dark tan and a gorgeous mid blue with just a hint of green in it. A few knots of Fuchsine dye along the top guard border suggests a date of around 1860. Price includes modest repair work. 6'4" x 7'10"
