Description

Victorian Mahogany Chiffonier A decorative Victorian mahogany chiffonier featuring a beautifully shaped galley back with a raised shelf supported by elegant turned columns. Below, two drawers sit over a pair of panelled cupboard doors, which open to reveal a single full width fitted shelf, perfect for practical storage. The piece is grounded on classic bun feet, adding to its balanced proportions and period charm. This is a lively and characterful example of Victorian furniture, showcasing a rich, aged patina. There are some marks to the top and noticeable fading to the veneer, particularly on the front elevation, consistent with its age and use. The left-hand cupboard panel does not sit entirely flush, but this minor imperfection does not detract from its overall authenticity or appeal. A true antique with presence and functionality, this chiffonier brings both storage and style and promises to remain a treasured piece for generations to come.
