Description

A graceful Louis XV-style centre table, crafted in richly toned amboyna with detailed marquetry inlay and refined gilt metal mounts. The oval serpentine top features an exquisite central oval medallion depicting a vase of flowers, surrounded by scrolling foliate patterns, all framed in ebony trim for striking contrast. The shaped frieze includes a discreet single drawer, while the table stands on elegant cabriole legs adorned with mask-head mounts and terminating in decorative sabot feet. A fine example of 20th-century craftsmanship inspired by 18th-century French design, this table would make a refined statement in any drawing room, study, or entrance hall. Details: Style: Louis XV Revival Date: 20th century Materials: amboyna, ebony trim, marquetry inlay, gilt metal mounts Features: Oval serpentine top, single drawer, floral inlay, cabriole legs with mask mounts and sabot feet Condition: Excellent with only light surface wear; structurally sound and beautifully finished
