Description

Fabulous antique diamond ring, classic of Art Deco, a fine target ring with a larger stone in the centre surrounded by a halo of smaller stones. English-made, circa 1920-30, crafted in 18 ct. gold (750 fineness) and platinum and set with old hand-cut European diamonds. The ring looks very elegant and sparkles beautifully when worn. Despite their age, such rings look stunning in modern ensembles, they easily combine with other jewellery, and never appear dated. They represent a confident, elegant classic, a fine example of good taste. Marked (stamped) to the inside of the shank 18ct. Dimensions: ring size – O, USA – 7 1/4, total ring weight – 2.38 grams, total estimated calculates diamond weight in the ring – 0.75 ct, central stone – 0.25 ct, colour – J-H, clarity SI1. Condition – excellent, with minimal age-related wear, all stones appear original.
