Description

A mid 19th century (circa 1870) fine quality burr walnut bonheur du jour in the French style. This piece consists of six small drawers to the top, three drawers to either side of the cupboard with fine quality pierced brass gilt gallery to the top and applied ormolu mounts. The drawers consist of burr walnut veneer to the fronts all with intricate boxwood stringing and banded with tulipwood with inlaid boxwood decoration, the bottom right hand drawer fitted with a pen compartment. The central cupboard being inlaid with boxwood, the door having a fine quality brass lattice work panel with red silk fabric lining and an escutcheon with key which can be locked, the interior of the cupboard having one shelf, the cupboard being lined with red velvet fabric. This leads down to the desk section, of serpentine shape, veneered in burr walnut with a central oval panel of original red Moroccan tooled leather which is in good condition, all framed with brass and gilt metalwork with an ebonised moulding. The sides and front are of serpentine shape veneered in burr walnut, the sides and side rails being shaped with ormolu mounts to the centre with boxwood stringing. This lead...
