Description

Antique 18ct Gold Ring with Portrait of Prince Albert – Victorian Era, c.1840 A truly rare and elegant antique ring, featuring a beautifully hand-painted miniature portrait of Prince Albert. The portrait is painted on bone, typical of Victorian portrait jewellery. The surround and shank is crafted in rich 18 carat gold. This early Victorian piece is a wonderful example of 19th-century fine jewellery. The portrait, delicately detailed and full of character, shows the young Prince Albert wearing a medal. It is framed by a gold bezel with vibrant turquoise blue enamel accents at the corners and shoulders, adding a striking splash of colour and luxury. This ring is not only a piece of wearable art, but also a collector's item for lovers of royal history and antique jewellery. Material: Solid 18ct gold (tested). Bone and enamel. Features: Hand-painted miniature portrait of Prince Albert. Design: Oval bezel with turquoise enamel inlays. Era: Early Victorian (circa 1840). Condition: Excellent antique condition. Enamel is pristine. Portrait is crisp and clear. Light scratches on the protective varnish. Ring face size: 17mm x 14.3mm (0.67" x 0.55"). Ring size: UK 1 / US 5.6. Internal Ref: 22151
