Description

This Oak Office Desk Chair With Arms will look at home in both a traditional or indeed a contemporary décor. The beautifully figured light oak works so well with the rich brown hide seat. The hide seat has a decorative nail decoration to the edges. This piece, being made from generously proportioned timber, was obviously designed for hard work, with the double stretcher underlining that. The top rail is nice and wide to aid comfort whilst working away at your desk or indeed relaxing and contemplating there. Presented in fully restored condition ready for many more years of work.
