Description

This is a very good Tibetan Thangka, Buddhist painting on cotton silk appliqué which often depict a Buddhist deity scene or mandala. The subject here is the Wheel of Life (Bhavachakra) which is a visual representation of the Abhidharma teachings. (Art of Enlightenment). This early 20th century example is in fine condition, beautifully framed in a good deep Victorian pinewood frame with a golden waxed finish. The frame measures 80 cms by 65 cms overall. UK insured delivery is £20
