Description

This impressive large oak refectory table dates back to 1900 and is a beautiful example of traditional craftsmanship and robust design. Made from solid oak, it features a thick four-plank top with rich natural grain. The table stands on shaped trestle supports joined by a sturdy stretcher, giving it excellent stability and a timeless, rustic appearance. Ideal as a farmhouse dining table, country kitchen table, or statement dining piece, this antique refectory table easily seats 8–10 people, making it perfect for family gatherings and entertaining. Its strong, architectural form and generous proportions suit both period interiors and modern rustic styles, bringing warmth and character to any space. circa 1900 Chairs in Photo Stock Number C1466
