Description

A beautiful and very solid continental pine dresser dating from the late Victorian period. The dresser consists of three units. The base cupboard section has two curved doors behind which are two adjustable shelves, there is also a central pull out preparation shelf. The top section has three glazed doors and a single adjustable shelf. Fitting within the top section is a set of 'pigeon holes' containing china spice drawers. The spice names are printed in German on the fronts. There is some light damage to a couple of these drawers as shown in the pictures. Delivery service available and may be free depending on the location please ask for more details. Our ref. 2062
