Description

Edwardian inlaid mahogany revolving bookcase This Edwardian inlaid mahogany revolving bookcase was made circa 1900. It is of serpentine shape, the top with a large panel of attractive inlay to the centre of the top. The bookcase revolves on the cross base supports with castors under. It has slatted sides that support the books once they have been placed on the multiple shelves. Around the shaped frieze there is inlay and stringing on the plinth. The Edwardian inlaid mahogany revolving bookcase is a golden mellow mahogany. You will enjoy ownership of this elegant bookcase that is not only attractive but very useful for your home. "There is scarcely anything in the world that some man cannot make a little worse and sell a little more cheaply. The person who buys on price alone is this man's lawful prey." ?
