Description

An exceptional Arts & Crafts buffet table by Shapland & Petter of Barnstaple, circa 1900, beautifully crafted from solid oak and presented in outstanding antique condition. The elegant galleried back is adorned with a striking decorative copper panel, reflecting the distinctive craftsmanship of the period. This three-tier buffet is supported by square legs on original castors, combining sturdiness with graceful proportion. A central-tier drawer, fitted with copper ring handles, adds both functionality and aesthetic appeal. With no damage or repairs, this buffet stands as a testament to Shapland & Petter's renowned quality and artistry. A highly collectible piece, perfect for a sophisticated dining space, a grand reception room, or a characterful period interior. Shapland & Petter was a renowned furniture manufacturer based in Barnstaple, Devon, England, known for its Arts & Crafts designs and high-quality craftsmanship. The company was founded in 1854 by Henry Shapland and Henry Petter, both of whom brought distinct expertise—Shapland as a cabinet maker and Petter as a skilled businessman.
