Description

A delightful antique five-stone diamond ring, beautifully crafted in rich 18 carat gold and fully hallmarked at the Chester Assay Office in 1907. This elegant piece is typical of fine Edwardian design – refined, balanced, and timeless in its appeal. Set with five old cut diamonds in traditional claw settings, the ring features a pierced fluted gallery and finely detailed scroll shoulders, which lead to a gently tapering shank. The overall effect is one of classic charm and delicate craftsmanship. Centre diamond approx. 2.5mm Next two diamonds approx. 2mm Outer two approx. 1.5mm Estimated total weight: 0.20 carat Colour: H | Clarity: SI1–SI2 Ring front width: 6mm, tapering to 2.5mm at base UK Size: N | US Size: 7 (easily resized) Weight: 2.2 grams Fully hallmarked for 18ct gold, Chester 1907, with the maker's mark J.H (James Harrison). The hallmarks are clear and well struck. This charming ring would make a perfect antique engagement ring or a meaningful gift.
