Description

A Pair of Large Mounted Black Forest Chamois Taxidermy – Male & Female This impressive pair of chamois taxidermy features both a male and female, beautifully preserved and displayed on intricately carved plaques. Each specimen is in good condition for its age. Mounted on substantial oval Black Forest plaques, the outer frames are nicely carved to resemble naturalistic tree branches. The lower portion of each mount features a central cartouche style plaque flanked by carved pine cones. With their craftsmanship and strong visual presence, these pieces make a unique addition to a range of interiors—whether traditional, rustic, or eclectic in style.
