Description

This exquisite antique snake ring is a rare and remarkable example of Edwardian craftsmanship, fully hallmarked for Chester in 1905. Modelled in rich 18ct yellow gold, the ring features a beautifully detailed twin-serpent design – a powerful symbol of eternal love, loyalty, and rebirth. Timeless Elegance & Fine Detail Each serpent head is individually set with a precious stone – one with a charming old-cut diamond, the other with a vivid natural sapphire, both measuring approximately 2.5mm. The sculptural quality is superb: from the raised gold eyes and subtly open mouths to the elegant coil of the tails, the ring displays the finest attention to detail. A Glorious Piece to Wear or Collect This substantial and beautifully balanced ring is as wearable today as it was over a century ago. Whether worn as a personal talisman, a symbol of enduring affection, or a statement of style, it is a jewel to treasure. Diamond and sapphire each approx. 2.5mm Face of ring: 14mm wide at the front, 10mm at the base of the shank Weight: 10.6 grams Ring size: UK U / US 10.25 Fully hallmarked 18ct gold, Chester, 1905 Maker's mark: J.G.
