Description

Antique Art Nouveau Pierced Brass Floral Fireplace Fender – c. 1900 Elevate your hearth with the timeless elegance of this Antique Art Nouveau Fireplace Fender, exquisitely crafted in pierced brass with a flowing floral and foliate pattern. Dating to around 1900, this fender embodies the graceful organic lines and botanical motifs characteristic of the Art Nouveau movement. The openwork design not only adds decorative appeal but also allows light from the fire to play through the intricate floral pattern, enhancing the warmth and charm of your fireplace. The polished brass finish gives it a refined presence, while subtle age patina lends it authenticity and antique character. Perfect for period interiors, Victorian homes, or lovers of Art Nouveau design, this fender is both functional and decorative, serving as a stylish guard and an elegant architectural accent.
