Description

c. 1880 Superb French Ormolu Gilt Bronze 8-Day Mantel Clock with 2 Doves Brief Description: This is a superb quality and very original 19th-century French Ormolu Gilt Bronze Mantel Clock. The heavy and very elegant piece has an 8-day movement that chimes on a bell ring, every half hour. The wonderful, solid gilt bronze ormolu case has a pair of Dove finials, rising above foliate scrolls and a circular hand-painted enamelled clock face. Comes complete with the pendulum and a working key. The piece currently works well; however, as always, we are unable to guarantee the accuracy or function of an antique clock movement, so a service is always strongly recommended. Attributes: French 19th-century Circa: 1880-1890 Condition: Overall, very good original condition. There are chips to the enamel clock face that are only visible when the glass circular door is opened.
