Description

19th Century Oak Pot Board Dresser Base This fine 19th-century oak pot board dresser base is a beautiful example of country furniture, showcasing traditional craftsmanship with timeless appeal. Made from solid oak with a warm, rich patina, this piece features a distinctive shaped apron that adds decorative character and visual interest. The dresser base is fitted with three drawers, each adorned with antique brass plate handles, offering both functionality and charm. Below, the multi-boarded pot board shelf is supported by four square front legs and plain rear legs, making it ideal for displaying or storing large pottery, baskets, or decorative items. The drawers interiors are painted in a soft eau de nil. With a compact yet practical footprint, this piece works equally well in hallways, dining rooms, or classic interiors in need of elegant storage.
