Description

A beautifully elegant vintage solitaire ring, crafted in 18 carat gold with platinum settings, dating to the 1930s. The central brilliant cut diamond measures 4.8mm across and is set in a finely raised eight-claw crown – a timeless setting that allows the stone to catch the light beautifully. It is graded G/H in colour and SI3 in clarity. Adding extra sparkle and refinement, three delicate accent diamonds adorn each shoulder, giving this ring an effortlessly graceful presence on the hand. In total, the diamonds weigh approximately 0.60 carat. This ring would make a very special and classic engagement ring for someone who appreciates vintage craftsmanship and enduring style.
