Description

Set of Four Victorian Bristol Green Wine Glasses – Late 19th Century Add a splash of timeless elegance to your table with this refined set of four Victorian wine glasses in classic Bristol green – a beloved glassware colour of the 19th century. Each hand-blown glass features a rich emerald-green bowl contrasted by a clear stem and foot, showcasing the subtle artistry and craftsmanship of Victorian-era glassmakers. Key Features: Origin: England Date: Late 19th century (circa 1880–1900) Colour: Bristol green bowls with clear stems and bases Technique: Hand-blown glass with pontil marks Quantity: Set of 4 matching glasses Height: Approx. 12cm Condition: Excellent antique condition. No chips, cracks, or clouding. Minor air bubbles and irregularities typical of hand-blown glass enhance their authenticity. Style Notes: Ideal for period dining displays, formal entertaining, or as a beautiful collectible for lovers of Victorian glass. Their vibrant colour and fine form offer both decorative appeal and everyday functionality.
