Description

A superb and highly collectable lustre bowl designed and decorated under the direction of Daisy Makeig-Jones for Wedgwood, Staffordshire, c.1915. The deep cobalt blue ground is hand-painted with iridescent and gilded exotic birds in flight, the interior glowing with shades of orange and gold, centered by a stylised oriental bird—hallmarks of Makeig-Jones's early, ground-breaking work. The outer rim is encircled by a frieze of gilded geese, providing elegance and rhythm. Marked beneath with the Wedgwood Portland vase emblem, "Made in England," and an artist's mark "R." Makeig-Jones's creations are among the most sought-after British ceramics, with the market for her works growing rapidly due to their rarity, cultural significance, and exceptional artistic quality. This bowl is an outstanding investment piece and a key example of British art pottery from the early 20th century. Dimensions: Height 7.5 cm, diameter 13 cm, weight 232g. Condition: Excellent, no chips, cracks, or restoration. Gilding and lustre are vibrant and fresh. Please study the accompanying photographs carefully as they form an integral part of this description. If you have any questions, we will be hap...
