Description

An exceptional, fine and impressive antique Victorian Exeter sterling silver presentation cup with shooting/rifle interest; an addition to our diverse presentation silverware collection. This exceptional, fine and impressive antique Victorian Exeter sterling silver trophy cup has a plain bell-shaped vessel supported by three crossed rifles to a circular spreading base. The impressive vessel is embellished with a bright cut engraved quatrefoil shaped cartouche, flanked with scrolling leaf decoration and further quatrefoil motifs. The body of the goblet is further ornamented with bright cut engraved pensile drop designs, in addition to scalloped borders. The upper rim is encircled with a plain applied moulded border. The impressive supports forming the cup's pedestal are realistically modelled in the form of rifles, ornamented with embossed details. The rifle handles terminate to a circular spreading base accented with tiered ball designs, replicating stacked bullets. The circular base is encompassed with a bright cut engraved decorated border. The interior of this antique silver cup bears the original gilding. This exceptional antique silver goblet is fitted to t...
