Description

A Stunning And Extremely Rare Early 18th Century Queen Anne Period Burr Walnut Hanging Corner Cupboard, Having Elegant Broken Swan Neck Pediment To Top, Over Attractive Central Set Inlaid Star And Fielded Panel Door, With Featherbanded Decoration, Enclosing Two Fixed Shelves To Interior, Retaining Exceptional Untouched Colour And Surface Throughout. This is one of the best early hanging corner cupboards which we have come across and considering that it is over 300 years old then it has certainly survived in great condition. Clearly well cherished throughout its life, the many years of day to day use and dusting has created a wonderfully untouched surface which really is a standout feature of the piece and something which would be impossible to reproduce. Corner cupboards, particularly hanging ones, are of course a great solution to a room which is lacking storage and already has full walls. This is of course due to the fact they can be mounted in the corner and add a decent amount more of functional storage to a space which wouldn't be in use otherwise. They also of course add real elegance and a slightly different dimension. Overall the condition is extremely good, j...
