Description

A good example of a beautiful leather Gladstone style bag dating from the early 20th century. The outer of the case is clad in a brown leather with a carrying handle and a set of brass latches and a central lock that releases the latch to open the bag when pushed. The bag opens out on a frame to reveal the original cotton lined interior with two large side pockets. It has small metal studs on the base to protect the bottom when it is on the ground and an embossed serial number "1746". It is in excellent condition for its age and displays beautifully. There are some general signs of age and use around the outer of the case, some minor scuffs and knocks but nothing detrimental. The interior is generally clean and tidy with a few minor marks. It does not come with a key but this doesn't stop it being fully closed and the handle being able to be used. It has been gently cleaned and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Tracked UK delivery £15.
