Description

This is a fine set of antique apothecary weighing scales. An English, brass, mahogany and walnut countertop balance for the tobacconist or chemist's shop, dating to the early Victorian period, circa 1850. Wonderfully presented with associated weights and charming period detail. Delightful Victorian balance scale, ideal for apothecary collectors or decorative shop display. Appealing brass beam with decorative scrolled fretwork for a distinctive visual flourish. Suspended twin pans for weighing, with brass finish and lightly timeworn character. Base crafted from mahogany and walnut, presenting deep russet tones and fine grain interest. Lower walnut-lined drawer glides smoothly with a circular brass pull. Replete with associated weights – offers 20g, 10g, and single gram denominations within a charming case. Beam and fittings display charming aged patina, commensurate with gentle Victorian use. A captivating item for antique interiors, chemistry enthusiasts, or retail nostalgia, this apothecary weighing scale embodies elegant 19th century precision and craftsmanship. Solid joints and construction, delivered ready for the home. Dimensions: Max Width: 56cm (22") Max Depth: 27.5c...
