Description

19th-century burr walnut twin pedestal desk, with eight graduated drawers and a central drawer together with a lovely green tooled leather top. This walnut desk is very much in the Gillows style. Seated on a plinth base with inset casters, and comes in three parts, thus making the desk very easy to move. Made from beautifully figured walnut which retains a superb patina and warm colour. Handles and locks have been replaced, and a key is available for the central drawer. Our 19th Century Burr Walnut Twin Pedestal Desk is a classic piece of furniture from the 19th century that exudes elegance and sophistication. Made from the finest materials and crafted with the utmost care and attention to detail, this desk is a testament to the skill of the cabinetmakers of the era. The desk features a large, rectangular top, typically with a leather writing surface that has been embossed or gilded. The surface is often inset with a series of drawers and compartments, providing ample storage for writing utensils, papers, and other office supplies. The drawers are often fitted with ornate brass handles and lock mechanisms, adding to the desk's overall elegance and charm. The desk's...
