Description

Colour does not get any better than this in the 19th century. Those famous Kurds of North West Persia with their eye for colour were at their peak here. What a riot, a Garden of Eden, a rainbow of gorgeous natural dyes rarely found in antique carpets. It was for rugs like this that I was first drawn into the mysterious world of carpets over 30 years ago and I still derive tremendous pleasure from it. Not many of these around and the price is historically low. Grab yourself some affordable art and just love it...! 6'5" x 13'2"
