Description

This exquisite late Victorian cluster ring is a beautiful example of timeless antique design, making it an ideal choice for a romantic and unique engagement ring. Handcrafted in 18ct gold, it features a scintillating old European cut diamond at the centre, encircled by six matching stones of exceptional quality. These antique diamonds are bright, clean, and full of fire—graded VS1 clarity and G/H colour. The cluster is set in elegant white gold above a yellow gold scalloped corbeille, lending gentle contrast and subtle height. Ornate splayed shoulders add grace to the design, making this a wonderfully wearable ring with enduring vintage charm. Central diamond: 2.5mm, outer six diamonds: 2.3mm each. Total diamond weight approximately 0.40 carat. Diamond grade: G/H colour, VS1 clarity. Cluster head diameter: 8.5mm, rises 3.8mm from the finger. Ring size: K (UK) / 5.5 (USA) – easily resizable. Fully marked 18ct. Weight: 2.5 grams. Dates to circa 1900 (late Victorian). Excellent original condition. Supplied in the presentation box shown. Our ref: 22196.
