Description

A fine and original example of Colt's iconic percussion revolver, the Model 1849 Pocket Revolver, manufactured in 1861 during the American Civil War period. This is a .31 caliber, 6-shot percussion revolver with a 4-inch octagonal barrel, marked clearly along the top flat: "Address Col. Saml Colt. New York. U.S. America." The revolver features a spur hammer, under-barrel loading lever, brass trigger guard and grip frame with mellow age patina, and polished one-piece walnut grips. The cylinder bears traces of the original stagecoach hold-up scene — a distinctive engraving used by Colt on this model. Serial number 192628 is present on all major components (except the cylinder), confirming an original production date of 1861. The action remains in good working order, cocks and indexes properly. This is a genuine antique firearm with no license required under UK law. An attractive, display-worthy, and historically important sidearm from the golden age of Colt percussion revolvers. Dimensions: Overall length: approx. 9 inches Barrel length: 4 inches Condition: Good antique condition. Original patina throughout, signs of age and wear as expected. Mechanically sound. Cylinde...
