Description

A very lovely pair of large French opaline table lustres with heavy clear glass prism drops. They are in very good condition with the prism drops having no chips. The base of one of the lustres has the smallest, hardly visible, surface chip. It really cannot be seen but we have to point it out. See photo. The prisms themselves are heavy and chime when moved. The bowls where the candles sit are large and will take church style candle. Circa 1900. We can deliver free of charge in UK mainland and can calculate the cost for international; delivery. Payment by bank transfer, PayPal or card via telephone.
