Description

A Fine Victorian Walnut Davenport Desk by Wilkinson & Son, London Beautifully crafted in walnut, mahogany, and satinwood. Stamped Wilkinson & Son. The top features a tooled leather writing surface, enclosing a large storage compartment with two drawers and two dummy fronts. A flat, galleried area above is ideal for books, files, or placing a monitor. The writing surface slides forward to provide a comfortable seating position. The lower section is supported by finely carved sabre legs with elegant inset lattice fretwork. One side reveals a secret compartment housing four graduated drawers with attractive turned handles. Additional storage includes a clever slide-out drawer, perfect for pens, brushes, or stationery. The desk stands on smart cup feet with inset castors. Crafted using the finest timbers and veneers, these ingenious desks, once overlooked with the decline of letter writing, are once again gaining the admiration they deserve. Compact yet practical, this beautifully made desk provides ample storage and can be used with a small PC, laptop, or tablet. It also offers the optimal angle for comfortable reading or writing.
