Date of manufacture: 1900

Description

A refined example of early 20th-century English Art Nouveau design, this ring showcases the stylistic purity of the period. Crafted in 18ct yellow gold, the fluid, naturalistic form is adorned with a milligrain set oval mixed-cut amethyst and a bezel set old cut diamond of approx. 0.04ct. The minimalist yet expressive design captures the organic curves and refined asymmetry so characteristic of the early 20th century. The amethyst displays a rich, royal purple hue, beautifully offset by the sparkle of the antique-cut diamond. Fully marked "18ct" inside the band, consistent with English manufacture circa 1900–1910. A fine collector's piece or romantic period gift. UK Ring Size: M (US 6.25) Amethyst: approx. 5.5 × 4.5 mm Diamond: approx. 0.04 carat Total weight: 2.81g Condition: excellent, all the gems are original and intact.
