Description

A rare small Limoges coffee set, produced in France by Charles Ahrenfeldt and decorated by J. Asalvary, c.1895. This set comprises a coffee pot, covered sugar bowl, and creamer, all crafted in fine white Limoges porcelain. Each piece features a vertically ribbed body, heavy gilt acanthus leaf borders, and finely sculpted handles, lids, and bases. Both the green underglaze Ahrenfeldt oak-leaf factory mark (c.1895) and the red oval decorator's stamp of J. Asalvary, Limoges, are present.

This is a rare collector's set, seldom found complete and in such exceptional condition. The combination of rich gilding, precise casting, and the presence of both factory and decorator marks distinguishes this service as a work of high Limoges artistry from the Belle Époque era. Condition Coffee pot: minimal gilt wear to handle and lid, otherwise pristine Sugar bowl: excellent, no chips, cracks, or repairs Creamer: minor, barely visible gilt wear to rim, otherwise excellent Dimensions Coffee pot: height 14.5 cm, width 17 cm, depth 6.4 cm Sugar bowl: height 1...
