Description

19th c. Bohemian Blue Glass Chatelaine Scent Bottle – Gilded & Enamelled A decorative late 19th-century cobalt blue glass scent bottle, likely Bohemian, dating to circa 1870–1890. Of ovoid form with original gilt metal collar and suspension chain, the body hand-painted with scrolling gilt designs and white enamelled floral detail. The screw-threaded neck would once have been fitted with a small cap (now lacking). A pretty example of Bohemian glass for the dressing table or as part of a chatelaine display. Offered in fair antique condition with typical wear to the gilding and oxidation to the metalwork. Measures: 4.5 cm high (excluding chain) x 2.5 cm wide Condition: Cap missing. Some rubbing to gilding and aged patina to metal. Origin: Probably Bohemia, c.1870–1890
